Aver's Sarsaparilla, FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are of a truly marvellous character. Inveterate cases of Scrofula, where the system seemed utterly eiven up to corruption have yielded to this comgound of anti-strumous virtues. Disorders of a scrofulous type, and at fections which are merely gravated by the presence of scrofulous matter, re been radically cured in such numerous in-tances, in every settlement in the country, that the public do not need to be informed here that it is in a-t cases a specific and absolute remedy. oison is one of the most destructive of our race. A Talk with Gen. Stoneman

The correspondent of a New York paper writing from Richmond, Va., gives some interesting statements concerning the late removals and changes in military district No. 1, based upon a "conversation with Gen. Stoneman." The correspondent reports Gen. Stoneman as saying that he has been anxious to go to California for some years, and is glad, as he well may be, to escape "that eternal political muddle in which he was not interested, in Virginia, and for which he had neither taste nor inclination." To a question as to the supposed cause of his removal. General Stoneman said :

"I have no idea of the reason, except that it was done through the influence of politicians who could not use me to further their ends and

Gen. Stoneman further adds "I had nothing to do with any charges of a criminal nature made against Governor Wells. Such matters belong properly to the courts, and I suppose the United States civil officers here are horoughly competent to protect its interests. And then I did not remove Wells, nor did I suspend him. I merely devolved the only duties he performed -- those of pardoning convicts and appointing notaries public-upon the commanding general until further orders. He still continued to draw his salary and play croquet on the lawn — (with a laugh). Had I removed him there is an order in existence that would have prevented his reappointment by my successor, and this I left to Gen. Canby. I absorbed Wells' duties because he exercised the pardoning power too freely for political purposes, and because his policy was proscriptive, leaving it at the option of my enccessor to do as he pleased. Wells also transcended the authority conferred upon him. As to

"I had nothing whatever to do with politics much less the 'new movement.' Once or twice one or two gentlemen called upon me to ask my advice as to the course they should pursue in regard to the 'new movements,' and I told them I saw no use in going to Washington with a protest in one hand and a condition in the other .-What they wanted would have to be obtained from the republican party, and they were evidently ontside of it. Get into the ring, gentlemen, or you will fail. Don't depend on the fallacy of establishing a Grant party, but go at once to work and organize a thorough republican party, and then you may succeed. As for Mr. Walker, of New York-the new movement nominee-I have never seen him but two or three times in my hi and only to speak to him once, and then nothing political was broached."

Strawberries in New York,

The New York Sun of Tuesday says: Strawberries have been selling here for our luxurious citizens, blessed with palates enjoying them, literally regardless of expense. Strawberries at $10 a quart in Broadway, and within a stone's throw of hundreds of poor people who can't get bread enough to eat at 10 cents a loaf !-City of contrasts truly is this. Strawberries are delicious but not when the sum paid for them would keep many a suffering family in comfort for a whole week. One must have a very dainty palate or a very quiet conscience to banquet on food that suggests such unpleasant opposites.
